“ My sister my love . It is almost a year since you left us. I have not really lost you because I still talk to you at night when I am talking with God. Some times I talk to you when I'm in the kitchen or in my car. Just can't face the pain of your leaving because I would crumble into dust. So I just keep you close in my heart and mind as if you are still here. I love you with all heart and soul please know I expect to see you with a big smile on your face when we are together again.

“ My dear cousin Marsha was always full of energy. I have found memories of times we spent around each other, like when Mike and I showed up at the hospital when her daughter was born in Chicago, or time we spent at her home in St, Charles IL insulating the house for her, and Mike and I went out to party only to return to two foil covered dinner plates sitting on top the trash cans; us thinking of course she had left us a steak dinners, but eagerly we opened them, only to find left over potato peels and steak bones, sorry but although disappointed, we laughed our butts off. Another found memory was at the age around 15, when Aunt Marilyn took me with her to return Marsha her VW bug and spend Christmas with her and Paul in Chicago, 1973/74 and they made me feel so welcomed, so at home and I even went out in the snow with Paul for a store run in the first front wheel drive car I was ever in, it was an Oldsmobile or Buick .and....She even dressed me up in a sheet of sorts and took me to a toga party with them, which was quiet strange to me, but turned out really fun. These are a few of my found memories, and not forgetting their wedding of course, so many good times, good memories that we always think there will always be more to come, but we get older and it seems the days get sorter, and one day, all that is left are the memories. I'll miss you my darling cousin, and pray you're now at peace with the loved ones gone before us. I am happy to have my memories, I Love You Marsha.

“ Your mother was a great Wild Rose mom, always willing to be involved and support her daughters. You can be proud of her legacy at the school. I remember her well. Peace be with you.
